OPTION NUMBER 1

SCANDINAVIAN

The ideal interior, designed in Scandinavian style, has the basis of pragmatism, functionality and pure aesthetics in a minimalist execution. Features of the constituent elements of design do not allow rooms to look sterile and allow you to immediately distinguish this style from others, such as the style of minimalism.

Modern Scandinavian interior is the embodiment of environmental friendliness and naturalness. Therefore, in the design of surfaces welcome natural wood or imitating its materials. The surface should look natural and simple.

Even in small apartments the interior in this style is a winning solution that helps to visually extend the space, adapt each room to the needs of the owners, create comfortable areas for recreation, interesting pastime with friends, work.

■ Stoneware with imitation of natural stone "Cepo di gre": durable, safe, strong material that combines aesthetics and high functionality of the coating.

▲ Scandinavian style is a contrasting combination of dark wood with light walls and a splash of green to create a bright accent in your interior.

● Water-emulsion painting on the walls is a modern solution for living rooms and bathrooms, emphasizes the clean lines of the apartment and creates perfect environment for your favorite furniture.

■ The flooring in the bedrooms and living room is made of high-quality, moisture-resistant laminate with imitation oak texture, which brings you closer to nature.

▲ Modesty and aesthetic simplicity in the Scandinavian style are successfully combined with the versatility and functionality of even small knick-knacks.

○ Neutral color scheme and geometrically correct, even lines effectively turn the room into an elegantly designed space and are truly timeless.

OPTION NUMBER 2

CLASSIC

Classic interior design is a timeless and elegant style that exudes sophistication and restraint. It is characterized by a harmonious combination of natural and artificial materials, creating a cozy atmosphere.

In the selected palette of the classical interior warm, light and restrained shades are dominating.

Soft neutral colors such as cream, muted beige and delicate pastel tones set the tone, creating a sense of calm and serenity. These colors serve as a backdrop to the overall design, allowing other decor elements to shine.

■ In the hallway area and bathrooms, the atmosphere is emphasized by porcelain stoneware resembling natural stone, bringing a sense of reliability and practicality.

▲ The laminate flooring is in natural wood tones, which is a hallmark of classic interior design, providing an excellent base for other design elements in the space.

● The ceiling is finished in traditional matte white and is complemented by plaster fretwork for light fixtures, which adds to the ornate lighting.

▣ Designer tip: Mirrors and glass play a significant role in classic interior design. They reflect light, making the space appear larger and brighter.

OPTION NUMBER 3

MEDITERRANEAN

Mediterranean style is an interior, which is characterized by restraint and lack of pretentiousness. It is formed under the influence of architectural traditions of the Mediterranean countries, so it absorbed design elements from Greece, Italy and some North African countries.

Mediterranean style is a relaxing, tranquil environment characteristic of warm resorts in European countries. This style has become widespread and popular due to its naturalness, lightness and simplicity.

The apartments create the atmosphere of a sun-drenched seaside. At the same time, each of the rooms is comfortable and functional.

■ The floor in the kitchen and corridor has a beige shade of natural stone texture travertine.

▲ In the living areas, on the other hand, you'll find laminate flooring in a light oak shade, with baseboards in the same light beige oak color with additional dark veining.

● The door is also in a beige oak shade, which harmoniously complements the color palette of the floor in all rooms. The entire interior is complemented by light, white ceilings and walls, creating a feeling of spaciousness and lightness.

■ In the bathroom, the porcelain tile floor and walls have a beige hue of the natural stone texture of travertine.

▲ On the walls there are not only tiles, but also sand-colored painting, harmonizing with the overall style, reflecting a color harmony similar to the tiles.

OPTION NUMBER 4

MINIMALISM

The style of minimalism is manifested in restraint, brevity and simplicity. This design is thought out to the smallest detail and does not contain a lot of decor. It is characterized by neutral light colors and simple geometric shapes, untreated "rough" textures.

In its pure form, minimalism is rare, because it is considered "too sterile". But brevity and the presence of large spaces, not cluttered with unnecessary objects and decor - these are the most characteristic features of this interior style.

If you prefer a space filled with air, light, appreciate clean and crisp lines, clean and harmonious combination of all elements with the color scheme, then most likely you are a fan of the style of minimalism. This design requires neatness and accuracy even in small trinkets, special care in connecting seams, surfaces, furniture.

Rooms decorated in the style of minimalism is very comfortable and practical. Creativity is successfully combined with harmony, and the general atmosphere promotes relaxation and enjoyment.

■ In the living rooms the floor is made of light almost white laminate with wood texture, and the walls are painted in white. In the bathroom, shades of light gray color are used.

▲ The floors in the hallway and kitchen are a light gray shade and the texture is reminiscent of concrete.

● All doors are made of graphite gray.

■ The flooring in the bedrooms and living room is made of high-quality, moisture-resistant laminate with imitation oak texture, which brings you closer to nature.

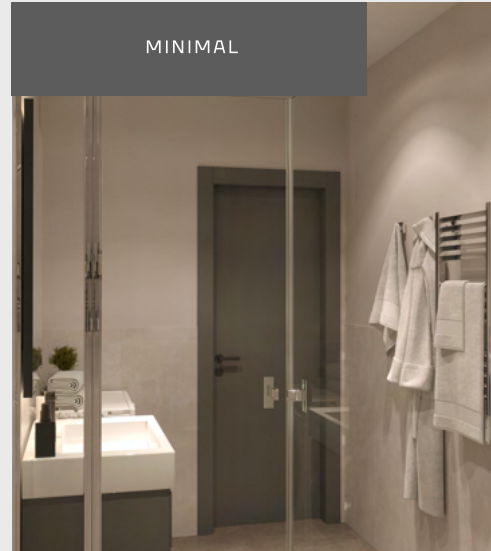

▲ Modesty and aesthetic simplicity in the Scandinavian style are successfully combined with the versatility and functionality of even small knick-knacks.

○ Neutral color scheme and geometrically correct, even lines effectively turn the room into an elegantly designed space and are truly timeless.
